

Big Airplane is Expected Here on President's Day

Ogdenites will have an opportunity of seeing one of the world's largest planes in action in the air during the first part of the coming week, if present plans of the Lawson air line are carried out.

According to Associated Press dispatches, the big machine, carrying fourteen passengers including a crew of five, departed from New York City this morning for Washington on the first leg of a proposed transcontinental flight. The plane only recently completed a perfect trip from Milwaukee to New York City.

A second Associated Press dispatch this morning stated that the Lawson plane, after a battle against heavy winds, landed safely at Bolling field, near Washington. A stop of three days will be made at Washington, after which the plane will take a direct course to Dayton, Ohio.

Upon leaving the Ohio city, the first part of the coming week, it is expected that the third destination of the plane will be Ogden. As Ogden has been selected as a landing field for the planes, it is probable that Ogdenites then will have their first glimpse at one of the world's largest passenger-carrying planes.

While stops at Washington and Dayton will be made, it is hoped that the plane will land here and that a stop of a day or so will be made.

At Hot Springs.

Officials of the Utah Hot Springs stated this morning that every effort will be made to facilitate the landing of the planes. C. E. Ledbetter, manager of the resort, is elated over the possibilities and will get in communication with Marvin Lawson, son of the promoter, with the idea of making Ogden one of the main points of interest along the line of travel. If the need arises, a hotel will be erected at the springs to accommodate the passengers, should their trip from Ogden to San Francisco be hindered on account of engine trouble or any other trouble that the planes might encounter.

If the plane arrives at Dayton as scheduled, it should arrive in this city next Tuesday afternoon about the time President Wilson and his party are being entertained. This would be one of the features of the stay of the first leader of the land and its landing here might prompt the president to greet the transcontinental plane in the first cross-country trip over the United States.

First Trip Across Continent.
Aviation has shown wonderful development during the past three years and is now out after other laurels. President Wilson and the thousands of other visitors as well as residents of Ogden may have the chance to witness the landing of the plane, as it sweeps down on the landing field at Utah Hot Springs.

It will be the first attempt to cross the United States continent from New York to San Francisco with passengers, and, if the event is successful, the life of the game is sure to develop with the progress that has already been encountered.

Marvin Lawson, son of the inventor, made the city of Ogden one of the stopping places on the air line. Young Lawson was in this city last Wednesday and stated that Ogden would be on the route of travel. He was through this city the previous week on his way to Los Angeles and San Francisco and at that time stated that conditions at the landing field here were such as to warrant consideration on the part of the large concern.

Ogden on Route.

The planes will come into Ogden from the east via Omaha and Cheyenne. It is expected that the machines will follow the Union Pacific tracks and that the mountains to be encountered by going via Denver and Salt Lake will be avoided. The climbing is one of the chief phases that need development in the aviation game and the new concern, in selecting the shortest and easiest route, placed Ogden on the map as one of two stops between New York and San Francisco. The other stop, according to word received by The Standard, will be made at Dayton, Ohio.

In the first trip west, the giant craft will have every modern convenience for the traveler. The up-to-dateness of a modern hotel will be rivaled by the giant plane, as reading rooms, writing rooms, sleeping rooms, and entertaining features will be available.

In due time the air line will be established and the trip from New York to San Francisco with but two stops will be made in from 36 to 40 hours of actual flying time.

A. W. Lawson, the owner and one of the boosters of the enterprise in America, is one of the pioneers of aviation in America. He was at one time president of the Aero Club of America and during the world war aided Uncle Sam considerably.

The field at Utah Hot Springs is in tip-top shape and the planes will encounter little difficulty in landing there. Young Lawson stated last week that the field would compare favorably with any in the United States. Manager Ledbetter of the Utah Hot Springs is eagerly awaiting further reports concerning the plane.

ENGINEERS NOT TO JOIN STRIKE

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Steam and operative engineers employed in the steel works throughout the country will not join in the general strike of steel workers set for Monday. This was announced today by H. M. Comerford, general secretary and treasurer of the International Union of Steam and Operative Engineers.

A letter has been sent out from union headquarters to every local country declaring that "union officers feel that the President Wilson should be given an opportunity to hold his arbitration meeting which he has set for October 6 and all members are instructed to refrain from affiliating themselves in any way with the proposed strike."

"Some of the men want to strike, and some don't," said Mr. Comerford. "The majority, however, are not in favor of it. This union affects thousands of men, all of whom will be told to keep on working."

"The officers of this union do not propose to allow irresponsible men to govern the policy of their organization, and we feel that the men who are ordering this strike are not responsible."

INFLUENZA WARNING IS ISSUED BY THE AUTHORITIES

The influenza epidemic, which caused thousands of deaths in the United States last season, and which crippled business in practically every nook and corner of the United States, has again started in the east. Every precaution is being taken in an attempt to check the disease, and it is expected that citizens will aid the public health officials in that work.

In Utah last year thousands of people were confined to their beds for weeks with the malady and business was hampered for more than four months. Schools were closed, theatres, dances and other phases of amusement were discontinued, and every step taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

This season, with the disease again making its appearance, the United States government has sent out circulars to the various health departments of the country asking that the health officials and citizens co-operate in checking another possible spread of the disease.

An Official Statement?

Will the flu return?
Authoritative statement issued by the U. S. public health service.

Probably, but by no means certainly, there will be a recurrence of the influenza epidemic this year.

Indications are, that should it occur, it will not be as severe as the pandemic of the previous winter.

City officials, state and city boards of health, should be prepared in the event of a recurrence.

The fact that a previous attack brings immunity in a certain percentage of cases should allay fear on the part of those afflicted in the previous epidemic.

Influenza is spread by direct and indirect contact.

It is not yet certain that the germ has been isolated, or discovered, and as a consequence there is yet no positive preventive, except the enforcement of rigid rules of sanitation and the avoidance of personal contact.

A close relation between the influenza pandemic and the constantly increasing pneumonia mortality rate prior to the fall of 1918 is recognized.

It is now believed that the disease was pretty widely disseminated throughout the country before it was recognized in its epidemic state. This failure to recognize the early cases appears to have largely been due to the fact that every interest was then centered on the war.

Above are the important facts developed by the United States public health
